FRIDAY, - SEPTEMBER 19, 1879.

LOCAL MATTERS.

From Tuesday's Daily.

Mexico Independent.

The celebration of "Independence Night" was carried out according to program last night by our fellow citizens of Mexican birth, assisted by a large company of others. The usual cannonading and fire-works preceded the assembling of the Committee in Levin's Hall, at half past eight o'clock. At that hour the building was full, with but little standing room, and presented a very handsome appearance. Levin has his window draperies up again, and has added to them a number of tasteful pictures which are suspended on the walls. The Mexican tri-color was shown on every hand; the handsome chandeliers were all ablaze, and a large part of the floor was occupied by the lovely of the other. Manuel Corrallo, Esq., presided, and first introduced Manuel Vasquez, who read the great Declaration. He was followed by Mr. I. Bonillas in an oration of fifteen minutes length. This gentleman's style was plain, quiet, and very pleasing, and what he said was well received by the audience.

About this time Sr. Corrallo discovered that the American flag was nowhere displayed in the Hall, and begged to assure the Americans present through an oversight, that such was the case. The apology was graciously accepted, but inasmuch as the same thing occurred last year, it was thought that the matter should be remedied by a liberal display of the Red, White and Blue at the exercises to-night.

Volunteers were now called for, but the volunteers had not been well drilled, and none came forward. Hon. J. K. Luttrell was discovered, however, and after urgent calls made a very appropriate five minutes' speech, in which he fired the patriotic multitude with a brand from the Monroe doctrine, and put everybody in good humor.

Judge French being called out, begged to be excused.

The crowd then drifted off to the garden; dancing commenced, and Independence Night inaugurated.

Our City Tax Collector has made his return to the Recorder, as by law directed, and the result is that a tax list of nearly $5000 he reports but $200 delinquent. This is a point that speaks well for the City of Tucson considering the hard times. The city is now advertising its railroad bonds for sale, and it would be well for those desirous of investing to take notice of the above facts, and also that our City Treasurer now reports over $1000 on hand and debts all paid. This state of affairs reflects great credit upon our City Council and their efficient administration.

We had the pleasure to-day of a call from Major J. H. Simpson, who is traveling in the interests of the firm of Albert, Mau & Co. The Major has traveled extensively, and is much interested in the history and character of the place he visits. He has taken his time to visit the city, and has been very interesting and pleasant in his conversation, and we hope his visit will bring him back soon again.

MR. HERMAN WELISCH left to-day for Tombstone, where he will establish a general news depot. Mr. Philipson has been over a year with Mr. Mansfield and has shown himself an energetic, shrewd young man. We commend him to our Tombstone friends as entirely trustworthy and hope he may meet with a liberal patronage and great success.

MR. D. A. SANFORD left by coach to-day for Los Angeles, where he intends to purchase a wool press, mow and reaper and such other articles as he may find necessary to the proper operation of his excellent ranch. Mr. Sanford is a good citizen and we wish him great success.

Now is the time for a cheap trip to San Francisco. In this issue we advertise an excursion to leave Maricopa the 25th inst., and the fare for round trip to be $37.00. The weather will be lovely at that time and a good time can be had. Ben Block, at Maricopa, is the boss of the enterprise.

It is but proper to state that the Junta Patriotica has limited all the orators this evening to fifteen minutes each. We mention this fact for two reasons, as some are averse to long speeches, while others might think the speakers hurried. A dance is expected after the speeches.

MR. A. G. RYAN, of the Cosmopolitan, yesterday executed to J. K. Luttrell and E. B. Perry, of San Francisco, a bond for the Holland mine, Patagonia district. The sum to be paid, if the property is taken, is $80,000.

CAPT. W. H. SEAMANS, Deputy Collector of Internal Revenue, has removed his office to Mr. Hancock's house on Camp Street, just above Stone Avenue. His office hours will be from 9 A. M. to 4 P. M.

The many friends of Mrs. Judge French in Arizona will be greatly pained to learn that her affliction (cancer) has appeared again and a second dangerous operation to remove it is about to be performed.

The Boston papers notice with favor the successful mining operations and enterprises with which Gov. Sanford is connected.

Wednesday's Daily.

Renegades at Work.

Last evening the news reached town of the robbery, on Tuesday evening, of the Tombstone bound stage at a point about three miles this side of the camp. The stage was stopped by two men, armed with shot guns and who spoke remarkably good English. Seven passengers were aboard, they were ordered in a line with "hands up," and the robbers proceeded to take an inventory of the personal property of each. They however, only obtained about $50. The mails and express were not molested. This is the work of a gang of renegades now infesting Southern Arizona and whose extermination, by any means, should be determined upon, and followed up by the united effort of all good citizens.

Hon. J. K. LUTTRELL left by coach to-day for San Francisco, where he will remain a few days and then go on to Washington and New York. Mr. Luttrell is greatly pleased with his observations in Arizona and will soon return to stay with us. During his visit east he will do Territory much benefit by the good report he says he cannot help making.

MR. J. H. SIMPSON left to-day for San Francisco, having opened quite a trade with our merchants in his line of goods. He will return in a few months.

To-morrow will be the Jewish New Year and the Pima County Bank will be closed on account thereof.

MR. R. N. LEATHERWOOD left to-day for a trip to Arivaca and Oro Blanco, to return in a few days.

The Davis-Tenney Wedding.

Last evening while our Mexican friends were celebrating the natal day of Mexico's independence, our esteemed citizen, Mr. Wm. C. Davis took his departure from the territory of single blessedness and emigrated to the fruitful state of matrimony, taking with him a delightful partner—that accomplished lady, Mrs. Mattie E. Tenney. The modest ceremony was performed at the residence of Mr. J. Preston, Rev. Wm. G. Mills officiating. The bride was beautifully attired in a rich brown silk and the groom looked decidedly "killing" in the conventional broadcloth. Mr. Mills was particularly happy in his manner while performing the ceremony. This being over the hearty congratulations of the guests were extended to Mr. and Mrs. Davis and the evening was passed in conversation, supper and song, and it is the ardent wish of THE CITIZEN that the happy relations so auspiciously may be but an index of the joy and prosperity to follow them all their days.

An interesting coincidence was discovered to have occurred, unintentionally, at the ceremony. Mr. Davis was, until last night, a widower, and at his former wedding two of his warm old bachelor friends, Messrs. R. N. Leatherwood and Thomas Driscoll, were guests and witnesses. On this interesting occasion they were also witnesses. Mrs. Tenney, the bride, was married before in Wisconsin, and Mr. and Mrs. Preston were present at and witnesses to the marriage there. Last night, also, they were present at the new marriage of their friend. Mr. Preston on the occasion of the former marriage of our Mr. Davis, drove a distance of thirty-five miles in a storm, through a romantic and picturesque section of Wisconsin to attend the ceremony; and yesterday he drove from his lumber-mill, a journey of forty miles, to be present at this one, and arrived in good time in fine, fair weather, and fitness and join in the ceremony and festivities. It is not often that such a circumstance occurs, which was first noted by the clever appreciation of the officiating clergyman, who had heard remarks from the separate parties incidentally.

Thursday's Daily.

District Court.

Territory vs. Carpenter. In this case the court yesterday morning overruled the defendant's demurrer to the indictment filed that in indictments for the larceny of documents mentioned in section 2, of the criminal code, the value of the papers need not be alleged. Trial set for September 23.

Territory vs. McDermott. Motion for continuance, on affidavit showing absence of witnesses, granted on terms.

Territory vs. Mitchell. Demurrer filed. The trial of Territory vs. Camacho was taken up.

Gregorio Camacho was yesterday afternoon convicted of the crime of petit larceny. Remanded for sentence.

This morning Adams vs. Magee et al. Demurrer sustained on the ground of misjoinder.

Zeckendorf vs. Stone. Motion to annul opening default granted.

Territory vs. Mitchell. The entire forenoon was occupied in the argument of the demurrer to the indictment in this case. The principal objection is that the matter set forth in the subsequent portions of the indictment negative the allegation that the false statements were material to the issue on trial.

The argument of the demurrer in Mitchell's case was concluded Thursday afternoon, and the matter taken under advisement by the court.

Mullen vs. Hartman, trial set for September 22, with leave to plaintiff to withdraw.

Barnett vs. Ming; motion to compel plaintiff to elect his course of action, and to strike out portions of complaint.

Trial of Jose M. Hernandez postponed to September 22nd.

This morning three divorce cases in Todd, Eck vs. Eck, Rittenhouse vs. Rittenhouse were ordered referred for the taking of testimony.

W. H. Young, charged with perjury, arraigned.

Territory vs. Kehn, murder, called for trial; motion by defendant to postpone trial to November, on the ground of absence of material witnesses. Denied.

Praying and Watching.

On Sunday morning last, just after the services were ended in the Catholic church in Tucson, a lady worshipper there, having followed the good father in devotion faithfully, noticed a fellow worshipper pass by the crowd through the church door. She was struck with the peculiar pattern of the shawl that covered the devotee's person, and instantly recognized it as one that had been stolen from her about six months since. She hastened as quickly as possible to the door and followed at a short distance, the wearer to her home. Being well convinced that the shawl was hers, she claimed it and charged the wearer with the theft. This of course was denied and conflicting stories told of its purchase, etc. After considerable parley a policeman was produced and the shawl surrendered. The precept of the good old book is still effective—watch as well as pray—and our pious friends must not condemn too severely the natural propensities of ladies who go to church to study the styles. This incident is a rebuttal (?)

PROF. BOEHMAN, our excellent local artist, left this afternoon on an extended tour among the picturesque scenes of the Upper Gila and the famous haunts of the Apaches in the grand cañon of the mighty "Black Water." He will also visit the military posts at Huachuca, Rucker, Bowie, Grant, Thomas and Apache and the San Carlos Indian Reservation. His purpose is to secure a complete set of the most valuable and attractive views obtainable in the sections he visits, and it is certain a more desirable route could not have been chosen. Dr. Hildebrand, our obliging dentist, will accompany Mr. Boehman and will combine the business of the trip with the pleasure of extracting or otherwise treating the "grinders" of our noble army wherever there may be a necessity. During Mr. Boehman's absence his efficient assistant, Mr. Patridge, will have the supervision of the photographing parlors on Congress street.

MANUEL VASQUEZ and his wife, with several other parties left to-day for Sonora. They will visit Magdalena and Guaymas before returning. The party occupied two large comfortable coaches and start in good style. Mr. Vasquez expects to be absent about a month, and during this time his business will be conducted by Mr. M. Correll.

MESSRS. OBERHOLSEN & WALKER have put on a new stage line to the Tombstone District and will run a tri-weekly stage for the present, but hope soon to increase it to a daily. Mr. Oberholsen is proprietor of the principal station, at San Pedro, and Mr. Walker has been stage agent for some time. These are advantages which ought to insure success.

J. N. HARVEY came to-day from the Empire Ranch.

To-Day's Daily.

WILLIAM H. YOUNG was held by Judge Neugass some time since to answer a charge of perjury at the September term of the District Court. William was a stranger in Tucson, and his bail was fixed at $100, he paid the money into court and went off to Tombstone to work at his trade—carpentering, having arranged with his counsel, Mr. Lighthizer, for the latter to send him word when he should be wanted. An indictment was found early in the term, and Mr. Lighthizer wrote to his client on the 9th of September for him to come in at once. But Young did not come as was expected. His bail was declared forfeited several days ago, and a warrant sent out for him. This morning he came into court and produced the letter of Mr. Lighthizer, postmarked Tucson, September 9, and endorsed by the postmaster at Tombstone to the effect that the letter was not received at his office until yesterday morning, September 18. In view of the fact that Young is out $100, he is anxious to know where his letter was during those nine days after it was postmarked there.

OUR people should not forget when they go to the city to call on Uncle Harris. We hear of a great many people being frightened in numerous dens in San Francisco, such as "Hedge's," and Uncle this and that. Our citizens should be sure and take a little pains and see that when purchasing that they read the name of Uncle Harris on the window and in the store No. 22 Kearney street, between Bush and Sutter.

Tombstone Shipment No. 7.

The Tombstone M. & C. Co's. bellion coach brought in ten more bars from the little mill at Charleston. The gross weight was 1281 pounds, and the total value $20,889.91, of which $1,489.43 was gold and $19,749.48 in silver. This shipment added to the six previous shipments makes a grand total of $195,355.30. The bars were forwarded to Philadelphia by coach to-day.

DR. JENARD, formerly stationed at Fort Lowell, is back in Tucson again visiting his wife's family and his old friends. His present station is at Fort Davis, Texas. The doctor will remain several weeks and will meet a cordial welcome on every hand.

A PEARL to a gentleman of taste, nothing is more acceptable than a cluster diamond pin, that originally cost $120 and can be bought for $25, at Uncle Harris', 22 Kearney street, between Bush and Sutter.

ED OKES, who has been out to the San Rita to attend the Young attachment sale, returned today a mortal enemy to the wicked flea.

SO-DAY Lord & Williams received about $6,000 pounds of miners' supplies, mostly iron, steel, powder, etc. Samanago's train brought it to.

DR. HIRSCHECOT has a notice in this issue, which we specially commend to our friends at the various military posts the Doctor is about to visit.

THE bar has become so numerous that it is found necessary to move back the railing in the court house. It was so ordered this morning.

LOOK out for the cars and look out for the new advertisement of Zeckendorf & Staab.

MR. ALBERT STEINFELD got back from Tombstone last evening very much pleased with the camp.

FROM THE PRESCOTT MINER:

REV. G. H. ADAMS, of the Colorado M. E. Conference, is now on duty in Prescott.

THE quartz mill, which is located in Bradshaw Basin, has recently had an Allen & White roller attached and will be ready to crush and roast ores by the 30th instant.

Barth and other freighters have had a rough time getting a 100,000 pound sack of salt to Tiger mine. They have been over a month making twenty-eight miles, from Walnut Grove to Bradshaw.

Secretary Gosper, A. M. Smith and Gov. Powers have returned from the Golden Era Mill on Cherry Creek. The workmen have the foundation for the boiler completed and are putting the same in position. The machinery for the saw mill is being put up.

While experiments are being made in artesian well boring in Arizona it will be of interest to notice the success of similar wells recently put down in equally arid districts of Australia. We quote the following from the Boston Transcript:

It is said that the successful borings for water in Frame County, South Australia, promise to render a large district, formerly almost destitute of water, highly valuable for agricultural or pastoral purposes. One artesian well, 400 miles north of Adelaide, sunk to the depth of 370 feet, yields 10,000 gallons of excellent water a day. Much of the arid and inhospitable region between the coast and the rich lands which have been discovered in the interior of the continent is expected to be reclaimed by a systematic tapping of the springs supposed to exist beneath.

THE Prescott Arizonan of the 11th says:

The Tiger and Tip Top quartz mills are running.

DR. E. B. PERRIN arrived this morning from the southern portion of the Territory, and proceeding directly to the Baca grant, for the purpose of making a personal examination of it, which comprises about 100,000 acres, and is situated at the western boundary of this county.

ITEMS from the Phenix Expositor of 12th inst.:

There was shipped this week from Smith & Woolsey's mill 50,000 pounds of flour to Prescott.

Rev. G. H. Adams, Superintendent of Missions for the M. E. Church in Arizona, will preach in the Tabernacle on Sunday. Mr. Adams is a talented preacher.

The public schools of Phenix will open for the fall term on the 23rd inst., with Mr. Long as principal and Mrs. Beverly Cox as assistant teacher.

Mechanics in Phenix are complaining of want of work. Some say the mechanics are to blame. When they get work, it is said, they charge five or six dollars a day, and do poor work at that, while business men with large capital invested can't make as much.

Gen. Hammond, Indian Inspector, and Mr. Ludlum, Agent, have been busy during the past eight days visiting the various Indian camps on Salt River, and left yesterday for Sacaton to perfect arrangements for teaching the Indians. The General recommends to our civil officers to treat Indians found stealing or committing any other criminal act in the same way and give them the same punishment that is meted out to other offenders.

How to Settle Mining Disputes.

GALVESTON, TEX., August 30, 1879.—A special dispatch to the News from Laredo says: Advice from Monterey asserts that the question of the ownership of the newly discovered Majada silver mine is causing trouble. The States of Coahuila, Durango and Chihuahua each have an armed force on the grounds. The General Government has ordered all work stopped until the question is settled. Meanwhile the Government claims that all the metal that has been taken out is confiscated. Thirty-four carts with silver are on the way to Texas. So far ten men have been killed and many wounded.

THE town of Las Vegas has doubled since our arrival here, less than two months since. And, all things considered, it is a quiet place, there not being more than one man killed or wounded a week.—[Cor. Alamosa News.

THE total vote of Los Angeles county at the late election was 6,680.
